Changes for 2012

In order to help you better plan, be better connected to your neighborhood association and hopefully become more involved we (your current NWNA officers) have instilled a few changes for the upcoming year.

While racking our brains as to how we can better connect to our neighborhood and get more people involved, we realized that our quarterly meetings in reality only occur three times a year (since our summer meeting has traditionally been replaced by the annual picnic). In an effort to make your NA more accessible we have decided to not only reinstitute the summer meeting we are planning to institute four additional "meetings" for 2012. Rather than the more formal Thursday night meetings that have agendas and outside speakers, these meetings will meet Saturday mornings at Latte Da, they will have no agenda, no speakers and in fact are just a casual opportunity for you to meet fellow members of your NA, ask questions, share concerns our just chat and share some coffee, provided by the NA.

Along with these changes also look for a new dates to remember section on the front page of each quarterly newsletter. All of the important dates for 2012 have been scheduled and can now be added to your 2012 calendar.

Another change will be the delivery dates of the neighborhood newsletter, rather than delivering the newsletters one week prior to the next general meeting, the newsletters will be delivered two weeks prior to the next general meeting, giving you more time to plan.
